Dreams & Reality

**I believe that Snotlout has a sensitive side, and he really likes Astrid but tries to look cool to impress her, to mask his "un-viking" feelings from everyone else... thats what I think! (that looked a little too serious!) XP anyways, R&R!**

>I looked over to the girl beside me, Astrid. She was sitting on the grassy cliff on Berk, silhouetted by the sunset. Her beautiful hair, like spun gold, was caught in the light, creating a halo effect around her angelic face. She was a girl of such intelligence and wit, and I had the privilege to be here beside her. She turned to me with a look of adoration and reached out her delicate hand, searching for mine. Her hand slid into mine and it felt like we were created only for each other. Our heads slowly came together, our faces mere inches from each other. I looked into her eyes and said "I love you" her reply was "and I you Snotlout". Our lips were millimetres apart. Then Hookfang had the audacity to set fire to my bed, thus yanking me back down from heaven. If only my dreams were reality.

>That was really short! R&R (let me just say again, Astrid is ooc because it is a DREAM, to those first reviewers (I think the first one, they didn't make much sense) that say that would never happen. Thank you.**
